Workforce Council of Southwest Ohio

Thought Leadership Series

Leadership Roundtable Discussion

Retaining talent in today's competitive labor market

free!

Join this exclusive Workforce Council of Southwest Ohio event for business leaders focused on retaining talent in today's competitive labor market. Leaders from in-demand industries such as healthcare, IT, manufacturing, transportation, and construction/skilled trades will share strategies they've used to keep employees engaged, motivated, and on the job.

Hear brief presentations and facilitated discussions with leaders to explore shared challenges, effective practices, and new ideas. Don't miss this opportunity to connect with peers in a supportive environment and gain fresh insight to drive your business forward.

Date: Wednesday, July 23
Time: 10:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.
Who should attend: Business leaders
Location: OhioMeansJobs Cincinnati-Hamilton County
Address: 1916 Central Parkway Cincinnati, OH 45214

RSVP to reserve your seat!

Presented by:

Andreas is an Engineer/Educator with over 30 years' experience in automation (21 yrs. SaraLee - Germany / 11 yrs. Sculptz - SC). He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering Technology, a Technical Business and Management degree, as well as an Apprenticeship Instructor Certification (AdA-Ausbilderschein) from IHK - Münster, Germany. Andreas' expertise in developing dual training programs has contributed to the successful development of the workforce in various manufacturing companies. His incredible proficiency made him the go to person for any work-related education programs.

Madeleine Kipperman, SPHR is the founder of Kipperman Consulting, LLC, a boutique HR firm specializing in strategic workforce development, employee experience, and corporate collaboration. She helps organizations build resilient, people-centered cultures by aligning talent strategy with business goals and strengthening leadership pipelines. With over 20 years of leadership across healthcare, manufacturing, and construction, Madeleine is a force in HR and workforce development. She currently leads second-shift HR operations at The Gorilla Glue Company, where she's known for cultivating high-performance teams and aligning operations with talent strategy.