

From Recommendations to Action: Strengthening our Region's Talent Pipeline for the Construction Industry

Construction projects are booming in our region, but the talent pipeline isn't robust enough to support the demand for workers. Southwest Ohio policy makers and workforce leaders are invited to join the Workforce Council of Southwest Ohio for a panel of southwest Ohio construction workforce leaders and practitioners.

Panelists include:

- Chris Fridel, Assistant Director - IBEW/NECA Electrical Training Center and Director - Greater Cincinnati Apprenticeship Council
- Susan Hakel, Director of Adult Workforce Development at Great Oaks Career Campuses
- Jason Harvey, Chief People Officer for Prus Construction
- Jeff Wendt, Instructor at Great Oaks Institute of Technology and Career Development
- Moderator: Jesse Grissom, Retired, previously President of Operations, Kao USA, Inc.

The group will discuss the recommendations in the Workforce Council's recent report, Supporting & Building the Construction Workforce in Cincinnati and Hamilton County (scan the QR code below to read).

Attendees will leave this event with a strong understanding of strategies that are working well locally to recruit, train, and retain the next generation of skilled workers, and of how public policy can best enhance this work.

Friday, May 29

9-10:30 AM

Community Action Agency

3rd floor

1740 Langdon Farm Road,
Cincinnati, OH 45237

Free! Refreshments will be provided.

REGISTER NOW

